

Support Beyond the School

In extreme cases, it may be that the school has exhausted its capacity to provide effective behavioural support to an individual student. In this case, the school needs to look elsewhere for advice/support/resources.

There are many options available:

- Educational Services
Contact your Educational Services Team for advice.
- Non DoE support
 - Aging Disability and Home Care (ADHC) can provide behaviour support,
 - Occupational therapy services,
 - Physiotherapy services,
 - Respite care for families;
 - Disability Service Australia (DSA) can provide interventions and consultancy services for people with a disability
 - Psychologists and Speech Pathologists;
 - ASPECT for parent support and information on strategies to use with students who have Autism.

(See toolkit for links to providers/services)